I am doing something like this - $date = strtotime($_GET['next-date']); $now = date("Y-m-d H:i:s", strtotime("now")); $delta = $date - $now; $deltaTime = date("H:i:s", $delta); But the problem here is, the timezone for $now is the localtime and the $deltaTime is in UTC time. How do I convert $deltaTime to localtime? A: Use DateTime::createFromFormat for date format $now = date_create("now"); $date = "2022-09-01 17:18:00"; $new = DateTime::createFromFormat("Y-m-d H:i:s", $date); $delta = $new->diff($now); print_r($delta); Output DateInterval Object ([y] => 0 [m] => 0 [d] => 0 [h] => 0 [i] => 18 [s] => 17 [invert] => 1) Fur Trade and the Lewis and Clark Expedition The furs trade often has a history of providing the economic means to assist explorers seeking to fulfill their dream of discovering a new land. The Lewis and Clark expedition was no different. Between 1803 and 1806, the Lewis and Clark
